

Nanaimo Christmas Craft Bazaar

November 16, 2010- Now that Thanksgiving and Halloween have past the holiday craft fair season has begun. The Nanaimo Christmas Craft Bazaar takes place this coming weekend, November 19th, 20th, and 21st at Beban Park Social Centre hosted by Parks, Recreation and Culture. The Bazaar will feature over 75 vendors offering great gift ideas for every person on your list.

You won't find any commercially made products at the bazaar, only local handmade creations. This year's event is especially exciting as there is a number of first time vendors registered. The lineup of new products includes nature photography, clothing and textiles, stained and blown glass. Returning shoppers will not be disappointed; favourites such as Megan Johnston Jewellery, Jessey LaFontaine, and Golden Maples Farm are confirmed.

The sounds of talented local musicians will help to create a relaxing shopping experience (well as relaxed as you can get during the holidays!). Dave Hart will be the feature artist this year. He will perform festive and seasonal songs on classical guitar on Friday evening (6-7pm), Saturday afternoon (3-4pm) and again on Sunday afternoon (12-1pm).

Why not make it a family outing and stop by the pool and/or arena while you are on site? Beban Park is centrally located, offers free parking and is located along BC Transit routes #3 and #44.
