Economic Development seeking input on committee makeup

Summary

With the City's economic development function moved in-house and a new structure being formed, Mayor Bill McKay is seeking feedback on the proposed composition of the supporting Economic Development Strategic Planning Committee that will come together to lead the process of creating a new economic development strategy for Nanaimo.

Currently the City is seeking applicants from various sectors to create a well-rounded group of economic development partners. Sector representatives are sought for:

- Forestry
- Agriculture
- Transportation & Warehousing
- Manufacturing
- Commercial Development
- Renewable Energy
- Retail
- Health care
- Education
- Tourism
- Technology
- Construction
- Labour Market
- Professional, Scientific and Technical

If members of the public have additional ideas on the sectoral make-up of the committee, they are encouraged to email the Mayor at Bill.McKay@nanaimo.ca.

Strategic Link: Creating a vibrant culture of innovation, stewardship and partnership to encourage a healthy economy, now and into the future.

Key Points

- Have ideas on the composition of the supporting Economic Development Strategic Planning Committee? Please send your thoughts to Mayor Bill McKay.
- Interested in being considered for the Economic Development Strategic Planning Committee? Download and complete the application form on the City's website - www.nanaimo.ca/goto/committeeeapplication.

Quotes

"We want the strategic direction of the City's efforts to be as wide ranging as possible and don't want to miss any current or upcoming sector of economic activity from participating in setting that direction. I look forward to input from all sectors that add economic growth and value in the City of Nanaimo."

Quick Facts

- In December 2016, Council passed a motion to cease operations of the Nanaimo Economic Development Corporation (NEDC) effective January 31, 2017 and replace it with an in-house model.
- Creation of an economic development function operated in-house provides a number of benefits including: (1) coordinated services across all City departments (i.e. development services, permitting, zoning), (2) ready access to key decision makers and enhanced transparency and oversight of operations and budgets and, (3) direct alignment with the City's community vision, planning and strategic plan.
