City of Nanaimo preparing facilities for return to indoor recreation

With COVID-19 safety protocols in place

Summary

As summer's end draws closer, City of Nanaimo staff are preparing facilities for the safe return of indoor recreation activities that will begin in September. Each facility has been thoroughly cleaned and sanitized; and staff have been analyzing each building with a COVID-19 lens to ensure that spaces can adhere to physical distancing and that enhanced cleaning and sanitizing can take place on a regular basis in an effort to keep everyone safe and healthy.

Recreation programs that are being offered will follow the same safety protocols with fewer participants, modified content in some cases and have no shared equipment. This, too, will ensure that everyone can stay safe and healthy while taking part in indoor courses.

To help patrons find their way in each facility and to keep the flow of people going in one direction, facility ambassadors will greet each person at the door and direct them to the area of the building they need to be and will help them know where to exit. In most cases, traffic flow will be one-directional. Where that is not possible, program start and end times have been staggered. Ambassadors will also be available to answer general questions and control traffic into the building. Only those participating in programs or have rentals will be permitted in the facility. All facilities, including those with washrooms, will be closed to the general public in an effort to comply with the Provincial Mass Gathering Order.

Recreation centres will open as follows:

- Oliver Woods Community Centre opens for fall recreation programs and community rentals on Wednesday, September 9. Pre-registered drop-in programs will begin on Sunday, September 27. Front desk hours: Open Monday to Friday, 8:30 am-4:30 pm (closed 12-1 pm) and Saturday and Sunday, 9:30 am-2:30 pm.
