City of Nanaimo receives $2.5m grant to support community resilience

City successful in application to Strengthening Communities Grant Program

Summary

The City of Nanaimo is pleased to announce it has been successful in obtaining $2.5 million from the Strengthening Communities' Services Grant Program to support unsheltered homeless populations and address related community impacts experienced by both the Nanaimo and Snuneymuxw communities. This funding comes at a critical time as communities begin to recover from the impacts of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

The City's funding application was supported by Snuneymuxw First Nation who will be partnering with the City on several projects that received funding. The grant will be used for a variety of existing and new projects aimed at homelessness prevention and response as well as improving community health and downtown safety. The majority of the funding will be spent on housing and hygiene supports for vulnerable populations, including recouping some costs already spent on existing community programs. Other project highlights include use of existing or new housing to support small scale homelessness response and an additional temporary shelter. The priorities identified in the grant application aligns with the direction set by the City's recently endorsed Health and Housing Action Plan. All funding must be spent by June 30, 2022.

Through the Strengthening Communities' Services Program, over $76 million is being delivered to local governments and Treaty First Nations in 48 communities across BC. The funding is provided by the Province of BC and the Government of Canada.
