

Design Rationale

As a result of company expansion our existing office is no longer larger enough to support all of our staff at K2 Stone Quarries. We are proposing to construct a secondary Britco office to meet our need of increased office space. The proposed office will have the same use as our existing office – employees may work out of either office as required. To create curb appeal with our existing office, the proposed office will be trimmed in matching green siding; and the skirting of the proposed office will be completed with stone accents to match the stone work on our existing office building (Please refer to our supplied company brochure for stone examples).
